

【Call for Papers】

Before submitting an abstract, you must first register for this Meeting.

Please note that abstracts cannot be submitted before registration.

Use this site to submit your abstract for all presentations (posters and symposia).

Period of Submission

October 2 – October 30, 2013

Abstract Submission Instructions

1. Excellent papers may be asked to join the symposia after the organizing committee has been formed.
2. The official language is English. As such, posters should be prepared in English.
3. The first author will be informed of the date, time, and location of presentations.
4. For oral presentations at the symposia, data projectors (LCD projectors) will be provided. (Please note that OHP and slide projectors will not be available.)
5. Further information, including poster size, will be announced here in the near future.

Online Abstract Submission

Online Abstract Submission is available through the UMIN online system.

Please click the submission button below.

Abstract submission deadline: October 30, 2013

1. Program requirements

The UMIN online system has been optimized for current browsers. We recommend Internet Explorer, Netscape, Safari (ver.2.0.3 [417.9.2] and later), or Firefox.

2. Language: English

Enter the names of the first author (presenter), co-author(s), institutions, title, and your abstract in English only.

List three to five *1*keywords in English.

3. Abstract length

The abstract title and body (author names, institutions, and text) combined should not exceed 1800 characters, including spaces.

4. Application for oral presentation at the symposia

If you wish to apply to be a selected speaker at a symposium, please choose a symposium from the pull-down menu on the submission page.

(The symposia in this list will accept a few selected speakers chosen by the organizing committee.)

Please provide your best English manuscript (Authors, Title, Journal, Volume, Pages, Year) related to your study presented in this symposium.

5. Password/Registration number

After submission, a registration number will be issued and you will be asked to provide a password. Should you re-enter the site to check, modify, or delete the submitted data, you will need your registration number and password as login information.

6. Check, Modification, and Deletion

To make changes or corrections, select the appropriate button below (Confirmation, Modification, or Deletion of Submitted Abstract) to return to your already-registered data.

After login, your registered data will be displayed, and you can modify the data. Please do not forget to click the "Submit" button to complete the modification. You will receive an e-mail confirmation to your registered address each time you modify the content.

The deadline for modifications and abstract submission is October 30, 2013.
